

DR. LASSITER ENDING THE GAME FOR TRAFFICKING VICTIMS

NEW COUNSELING PROGRAM IN SHEBOYGAN

Human trafficking victims are often caught in "The Game" which is another name for the psychological coercion they experienced while being sexually exploited or trafficked.

The brainwashing, threats, lies, and abuse is difficult to heal from, and they need our help in understanding and overcoming it.

We are excited to announce a short-term counseling program called Ending the Game for victims of human trafficking in Sheboygan, led by Dr. Debbie Lassiter and made possible entirely by your support! We are thrilled about the opportunity for local sex trafficking victims to receive the help they need. This counseling program will run twice per week May-June.

The Ending the Game (ETG) program educates and empowers survivors of commercial sexual exploitation and trafficking by providing a structure and framework to uncover harmful psychological coercion that victims may have been subjected to during or before their exploitation experience. The program reveals a sequence of commonly-used, yet seldom-explained, mind control techniques used by traffickers, sexual abusers, media and other coercive agents. For more on the Ending the Game program: <http://endingthegame.com/>

Dr. Lassiter is an expert human trafficking counselor and certified in facilitating the Ending the Game program. She is executive director of Convergence Resource Center in Milwaukee which provides ancillary support for men and women rebuilding their lives after trauma with an emphasis on formerly incarcerated women and female survivors of human trafficking.